

BETA GAMMA SIGMA

HONORING THE BEST IN BUSINESS SINCE 1913

July 15, 2020

To whom it may concern,

This letter is a recommendation for the Germany Alumni Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma. Beta Gamma Sigma is the exclusive business honor society, associated with AACSB International. Beta Gamma Sigma is not a fraternity nor sorority, but an organization that recognizes academic excellence in business studies. Our time-tested Society has been around since 1913 and continues to grow every day. Beta Gamma Sigma is also a proud, certified member of the Association of College Honor Societies (ACHS).

Beta Gamma Sigma is:

Global Connections

Beta Gamma Sigma connects collegiate students from over 580 collegiate chapters across the globe, providing networking opportunities with more than 820,000 lifetime members. These members can be found in over 190 countries and territories and represent some of the business world's top talent. Collegiate chapters of Beta Gamma Sigma can be found in all 50 U.S. states and in 33 countries.

Following graduation, BGS members can stay engaged with our Society by getting involved with our BGS Alumni Network, which currently boasts over 45 groups in major cities in 17 countries. The Germany Alumni Chapter is one of Beta Gamma Sigma's most active Alumni Chapters. The Germany Alumni Chapter has managed to reach not only BGS members in Europe, but BGS members worldwide.

Global Recognition

Our society supports school's AACSB accreditation, bringing with us the tools to recognize "the best in business" within their programs, on a global scale. A Beta Gamma Sigma chapter is complimentary to this prestigious accreditation. BGS chapters are only found in universities accredited by AACSB, of which there are only around 780 (600 of which have established a BGS chapter). From that group, only the top percentages of outstanding business scholars are eligible for membership. The exclusivity of Beta Gamma Sigma membership helps to set our members and our chapters apart from the crowd.

Global Lifetime Value

Beta Gamma Sigma aims to provide access to a global network of people, programs and services which support our member's lifelong professional development. To be succinct, the core value of BGS is advancement: advancement of member's careers and professional development; advancement of the values of honor wisdom and earnestness and the advancement of our schools' impact on the global business community. BGS hopes to provide these opportunities through our global network, as well as our programs.
